with Burpee Museum of Natural History

June 10–14, Monday–Friday, 9 am–4 pm

Knights of the realm, prepare yourselves for a week of adventure! Use your imagination to dig into a camp that sorts out history and mythology through STEM. Go on daily quests with other crusaders, be the engineer and construct castles and catapults, be the archeologist and examine dig sites, be the sorcerer and dabble in Medieval Chemistry. You will face your dragons as you learn swordplay for the stage and “Capture the Crown” in our outdoor science park! In order to succeed as the hero in these educational adventures, campers engage in learning and remain excited about science, math, Latin, history, and more!

Dino World: The Camp Xperience

with Burpee Museum of Natural History

June 24–28, Monday–Friday, 9 am–4 pm

Join the DPA (Dinosaur Protection Agency) in the design and construction of Dino World—a safe haven for the newly discovered dinosaurs! DPA agents will learn all about fossils, dinosaurs, and animal behavior. We will engage in fossil digs as well as live animal encounters. Scientists and Engineers will assist agents in dinosaur training techniques, DNA extraction, modern dinosaur habitat construction, and more! Join the action in a working PaleoLab where scientists are making real-time dino discoveries and delve into their cutting edge research. Do you have what it takes to be the next world famous paleontologist?

Junior Medical Camp

July 8–12, Monday–Friday, 9 am–4 pm

How can you have fun as a medical doctor or scientist? Experience the exciting opportunities available as we dabble into facets of several different medical careers. Conduct experiments and investigations, and engage in hands-on medical science explorations with Discovery Center educators and special guests from the wide field of medicine. Learn basic medical exam techniques, investigate biotechnology, explore forensic science mysteries, and participate in dissections. Scrub up! Your table is ready.

Camp Half-Blood: Lunar Mission

July 15–19, Monday–Friday, 9 am–4 pm

Camp Half-Blood returns to train demigods in becoming legendary heroes. Storytelling, live action role-play, plus physically and mentally engaging activities will foster teamwork, develop new skills, solve problems, and create summer memories that will last a lifetime. We’re traveling beyond Mt. Olympus’s atmosphere this summer to discover the wonders found in our solar system and beyond. Cabin teams will practice engineering design skills, construct and test rockets, design space suits, and build an outpost on the moon!

The Dangerous Camp for Boys

with Burpee Museum of Natural History

July 29–August 2, Monday–Friday, 9 am–4 pm

Every boy craves adventure. Exploring uncharted territory, testing our limits—it’s what we’re made for. Through STEM adventures, this Camp provides boys the opportunity to practice new skills and develop their potential to shape the world around them while practicing a battery of skills that will be used into adulthood. Based on “The Dangerous Book for Boys,” the best-selling primer on the skills that every boy should know, we’ll explore the chemistry of explosions, survival skills, the physics of water balloon throwing, land and water navigation, and more!

The Double Daring Camp for Girls

Girls are the queens of adventure...come take risks with us! At the Double-Daring Camp for Girls we push ourselves to the limit and try new things. Jump in to save our Rock River, learn outdoor survival skills, fiddle with physics and construct your own rollercoaster! We harness the laws chemistry to make explosions both beautiful and exciting! Based on the “The Double Daring Book for Girls,” the best-selling primer on the skills every girl should know. It’s a great time to be a girl; we will show you why! Push yourself to the limit and triumph over your summer with STEM!

Imaginarium: Inventor’s Workshop

August 5–9, Monday–Friday, 9 am–4 pm

Strengthen your inventor skills and tackle some intriguing challenges! Real inventors know that moments of failure are necessary on the path to success. Inventing is not a “eureka moment,” but a process that requires collaboration, hands-on STEAM applications, creative problem solving, and entrepreneurship. Use all these skills to invent a robot that can draw, design a thrilling roller coaster ride, build a stable structure using gumdrops, and more!
